GREAT SACRIFICE. Must be sold. See them. Ladies' $1.50 Sailors, now 50 and 75c. WALTER J. SIMMONS & CO., 341 MAIN STREET. PRETTY EVENING MARRIAGE. 12-20-1m

ADOPTED SON OF TEXAS WINS A NORFOLK BRIDE. A beautiful and impressive nuptial event was celebrated at St. Peter's P. E. Church, Brambleton Ward, at 6:30 p. m. yesterday, when Miss Eliza Bonney, the pretty and accomplished daughter of Mrs. Margaret V. Bonney, of this city, became the bride of Mr. Baker Hoskins, Jr., formerly of Norfolk, now of Temple, Texas. 12-20-1m

The sacred edifice was elaborately decorated with beautiful plants in honor of the occasion, and was filled with the friends of the contracting parties to witness the auspicious event. The bride was attired in a handsome tailor-made gown of gray, with hat and gloves to correspond, and carried "American Beauties." The maid of honor, Miss Aletha Skinner Hoskins, sister of the groom, wore white and carried a cluster of white carnations. 12-20-1m

Mr. M. A. Miranaba, of Athens, Greece, filled the roll of best man. The ushers were Mr. James S. Hoskins, Mr. J. Blount Hoskins, brothers of the groom, and Mr. T. Ramsey Taylor, of Manassas, Va. The groom and his best man and ushers were costumed in conventional black and wore boutonnières on the lapels of their coats. 12-20-1m

On arriving at the church the wedding party entered and proceeded up the main aisle to the sweet strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, exquisitely performed on the organ, the ushers in the lead, followed by the groom and his best man, the bride bringing up the rear on the arm of her brother, Mr. C. Fred Bonney, by whom she was given away. On reaching the front of the church, they were met by the officiating minister, Rev. C. E. Woodson, rector of the church, beneath a handsome arch of palms and were united in the bonds of holy wedlock. 12-20-1m

At the conclusion of the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hoskins left on the old Dominion steamer for New York, Niagara and Montreal. They will leave the latter place for their home in Temple, Texas, August 15th. 12-20-1m

The bride is one of Norfolk's most popular and fascinating belles. The groom has been connected for several years with the well known cotton firm of Hall Bros. at Temple. 12-20-1m

WON HIGH HONOR.

ALVAREZ PRIZE WON BY BISHOP RANDOLPH'S SON. The Baltimore Sun of yesterday contains the following announcement: "The Johns Hopkins University has received the gratifying announcement that the College of Physicians and Surgeons, in Philadelphia, has awarded the Alvarez prize of $300 to Dr. Robert L. Randolph, an associate of the Johns Hopkins University and chief of the Eye and Ear Clinic of the Johns Hopkins Hospital, for an essay, entitled 'The Regeneration of the Crystalline Lens.' The essay is a good deal more than an essay. It embodies the result of two years' work in the anatomical laboratory of the Johns Hopkins Medical School. 12-20-1m

The prize, which has been won by Dr. Randolph, is regarded as the highest medical prize bestowed in the United States. It was won by competition." The distinguished young physician is a son of Rt. Rev. A. M. Randolph, of Norfolk, Bishop of the Southern Diocese of Virginia, and one of the most learned and able clergymen of the E. Church. Bishop Randolph was formerly rector of Emmanuel P. E. Church, Baltimore, and has thousands of friends and admirers in both Virginia and Maryland, as well as throughout the South generally, who will rejoice with him in the honor which has been won by his son. 12-20-1m

NORFOLK'S HEALTH.

THE CITY WAS NEVER IN A BET- TER SANITARY CONDITION. The Board of Health met yesterday afternoon, but as there was not a quorum present no business was transacted. Dr. Newbill, the president, makes the statement that the city is in a cleaner and healthier condition this summer than for many summers past. All of the members of the board agree with him, and he stated that the city was too healthful for the good of the doctors. 12-20-1m

This gratifying condition all agree is due to the new system of sanitary inspection. Under this new regime upwards of 250 nuisances have been abated. The health board inspectors, Messrs. Pettis and Bell, as well as the police inspectors, Officers Stephens and Cannon, have done their work so well as to receive the highest commendation from all branches of the city government from the executive down. 12-20-1m

Eyes Examined Free.

Dr. A. Week manager of the optical department of the Galt Jewelry Company, will examine your eyes free. Defective vision and complicated cases specially invited to call. 12-20-1m

PROPOSED NEW JAIL

Important Meeting of the Commission Held Yesterday.

Unanimity of Opinion That a New Building is Essential—Bids For Plans and Specifications to Be Advertised For—Other Particulars.

The first meeting of the Jail Commission was held in the City Treasurer's office yesterday afternoon. The full commission, composed of Councilmen D. J. Callahan (chairman), Edward Camp and F. Jacobs, Mayor C. Brooks Johnston, Judge Allan R. Hanckel, of the Corporation Court, and City Engineer Brooke, was present. Chief of Police Kizer and City Sergeant Lawler were present by invitation, and by vote of the commission were made advisory members of that body. 12-20-1m

GRATIFYING UNANIMITY.

There was a gratifying unanimity of opinion as to the pressing need of a large and commodious jail, station house and Police Court room all in one building, and each member seemed imbued with the spirit of broad-mindedness, with an eye looking to the future. In planning for the jail the commission will look ahead, not to a city of 100,000 or 150,000 population, but to one of 200,000 or more. 12-20-1m

PLANS DISCUSSED.

The commission discussed the plans for the new jail in a general way, and went partly into details. The only action taken was the decision to advertise immediately for plans and specifications at the jail building. The advertisement will be published in the local papers, and in several mechanical and architectural journals. Councils in the session at which the commission was created voted an appropriation of $500 to pay for such preliminary work as this, and the commission will be in no way hampered in securing plans and, afterwards, bids. 12-20-1m

THE LOCATION.

It has been formally determined that the jail should be built on the lot bounded by Avon, Plume and Cove streets and Arcade lane, running just back of the present jail and police station. The property upon which Dogier's livery stable is situated will be secured by purchase or condemnation. 12-20-1m

THE NEW BUILDING.

The sense of the commission, as expressed at yesterday's meeting, was that the arrangement of the building should be as follows: 12-20-1m

First should come the police station, with ample office room for the chief, the captains and office force and the detectives; next the police patrol headquarters, then the Police Court room, and then the jail, with a hospital connected. This is considered the most convenient arrangement, as prisoners carried to the station house may be taken before the police justice for trial and then sent on to the jail without once leaving the building. 12-20-1m

ESTIMATED COST.

There are various estimates of the cost of the new jail structure, which would cost from $25,000 to $300,000. The dimensions of the building will be 90x200 feet, but the number of stories has not been decided upon. 12-20-1m

DR. NEWBILL'S BROTHER.

LIEUT. WILLIAM D. NEWBILL AP- POINTED A CAPTAIN. Among the appointments made Tuesday of officers in the new volunteer regiments was that of Second Lieutenant Willard D. Newbill, of the Seventh Artillery, to be captain. Captain Newbill is a Virginian and was appointed to West Point from the First District. He is a nephew of Dr. C. F. Newbill, president of the Norfolk Board of Health. His father is Dr. W. J. Newbill, a prominent physician of Lancaster county. Mr. Frank Newbill, a brother of Captain Newbill, is a prominent Virginia lawyer. 12-20-1m

Captain Newbill is one of the youngest officers of the army. He was appointed solely on his merits, being regarded as one of the brightest officers in the army. 12-20-1m

Thieving Along Front.

Much thieving is going on along the water front just at present. Complaints are numerous and loud. The latest victim is Mr. Joseph M. Clark. His loss is the copper lining of a pump aboard a barge near the Norfolk and Western depot. This metal cost Mr. Clark something like $50 and the most the thieves will get for it will not be more than a dollar or two. 12-20-1m

Richmond Excursionists Return.

The First Baptist Sunday school excursionists returned from Richmond about 9 o'clock last night well pleased with their day's stay in the capital city. Richmond treated them well in every particular. They enjoyed the sights of the city and at noon they were formally received at the Executive Mansion by Governor Tylar, who spoke warm words of welcome to them. The excursion was a large one. 12-20-1m

Body Recovered.

The body of Carey Almond, one of the colored men who was drowned off the Atlantic City flats Tuesday morning by their canoe colliding with the schooner Inley, of Baltimore, was recovered yesterday afternoon after being dragged for six several hours. It was carried to Edward's undertaking establishment, on Queen street, where an inquest will be held this morning. 12-20-1m Prof. C. L. Crow.

A special telegram from Lexington last night to the Virginian-Pilot says that Hon. Wm. L. Wilson, president of Washington and Lee University, had appointed Prof. C. L. Crow, of Norfolk, adjunct professor of German, French and Spanish. This will be gratifying news to Prof. Crow's many friends here. 12-20-1m

A Narrow Escape.

Mr. Joseph C. Carroll and son Joseph were in a railroad wreck between Washington and Cincinnati several days since, en route from Norfolk, their home, to St. Louis, their future home. They were asleep in a Pullman car. Mr. Carroll was slightly injured, but his son escaped unhurt. 12-20-1m

SAILOR BADLY CUT.

HIS ASSAILANT, A HALF-BREED INDIAN, LOCKED UP.

While the Boston schooner Cora C. Meter was lying off Hospital Point last night a negro sailor, who was taken on the schooner Tuesday, and W. S. Nevis, the half-breed Indian cook, became involved in a row, which came near resulting fatally for the former. 12-20-1m

The cook and the negro had a few words over a matter, and when they attacked each other Nevis pulled a big knife, which he uses in cooking, and drove it deep into the negro's left leg. A gash several inches long and very ugly in appearance was the result, and he may not live. He was brought to Norfolk and sent to St. Vincent's Hospital. The wound was so painful that he could not talk, and his name was not learned. The wound bed profusely because of a large vein having been cut. 12-20-1m

Nevis would probably not have been apprehended had it not been that the wounded negro was brought to Gatlins' pharmacy, on Main street, by Captain Anzo Meter, of the schooner, to have the wound dressed. A policeman saw the negro at the pharmacy and made inquiries as to how he was hurt, but Captain Meter refused to give any information. It is said, at first. Finally, when carried to the police station and questioned, he stated that Nevis, his cook, did the cutting. 12-20-1m

Detectives Heppel and Childress and Officer Stephens boarded a small tugboat and steamed out to where the Cora C. Meter lay at anchor. Nevis denied that he did the cutting, but the members of the crew said he did it. He was brought back by the officers and locked up at the police station. 12-20-1m
